Engaging the services of ProHome is a triple win situation, for the Buyer, Builder, and ProHome.

First and foremost my customer is provided with a staffed phone number to which has a friendly respondent with the attitude of let's see what's going on here and let's get the correct subcontractor or supplier headed their way.

Secondly, everything is documented from the walk thru till the warranty period is over. Conversations, time, who responded, follow-ups, and completeness of the warranty work.

Thirdly, ProHome wants to provide this service for you and is a great third party mediator between the Builder and Buyer making the warranty/non warranty call in accordance with the warranty documentation.

I would highly recommend ProHome to any builder or developer.

Sincerely,

Danny P. Bligh
